1234 JOIN RED CROSS IN FIRST THREE DAYS OF CAMPAIGN FOR '19 MEMBERSHIPS

Upland's Volunteer Plan for raising funds for War Activities is again proving itself. At 9:00 p. m. Wednesday the total enrollment amounted to 1234 and there are still many who will be heard from who are anxious to join the Red Cross for the year 1919.

To be at the Red Cross Shop, the headquarters for this campaign, is an inspiration. There one sees people of various nationalities, of many religious faiths, of all political beliefs and of diverse states of prosperity; each putting up the dollar not only for himself or herself, but for all the members of the family. And the fine thing is that each one comes, not because of urging or argument, but because in the heart of each is the knowledge that the cause is a noble one and that it is a privilege to have an actual part in its work. For we know that our money is giving help and comfort and happiness to those in distress everywhere; in our own home city and in the most distant part of the globe is there anything finer than that?

It seems to me that in the years to come the part we have taken in this war and of which we will be the proudest, will be our membership in the American Red Cross, and the money we have been able to take from our surplus or our necessities and give to the Red Cross for its work.

T. R. WOODBRIDGE,
Chairman Red Cross Christmas Roll Call.

Owing to the crowded condition of News columns this issue, it was impossible to produce the Red Cross membership, but in the issue of December 26th the complete list will appear. The list will be produced in an attractive form, that those desiring may have the list framed as a keepsake and reminder of the Red Cross Roll Call.

COLONIAL THEATRE

Mrs. Ben Myers, who is to be the active manager here of the Colonial when it opens for business following the lifting of the flu ban, states that she has completed the arrangements by which the theatre is to be most thoroughly fumigated before the opening. The opening of the Colonial hinges on the lifting of the flu ban by the health board which will probably be about January 1st, unless conditions so improve that it can be lifted previous to that time. Ben Myers of the Colonial is now employed in the laboratories of the Universal Film Co. at Universal City where he is getting in touch with the production of films.

MOSES S. ALLEN

Moses S. Allen died Sunday at 4 p. m. at the family home on Washington boulevard. Mr. Allen has been a sufferer for three years of sclerosis (hardening of the arteries) and came to this climate from Monrovia, Ind., on Sept. 1 seeking relief but nothing could be done to help him. He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Mary Allen, and seven children, Frank and Otis of Ontario, Ruth and Nell at home with their mother, Harry in France, Ralph in Camp Devens, Mass., and Mrs. R. L. Coddington of Bradenton, Fla.

Funeral services were private from Draper's chapel Tuesday p. m. Interment at Bellevue cemetery.

DON'T GO UNLESS YOU HAVE A FORMAL OFFER

The Civil Service Commission requests that a statement be issued conveying the information that no person, even though he has passed a civil service examination, should come to Washington expecting to find employment in government service, unless a formal offer of employment has been received from some duly authorized officer of the government.

GLENN R. WILLIAMS,
Local Secretary.

PIONEER RESIDENT ANSWERS SUMMONS

The death, at the age of 71 years, of Mrs. Eliza Gerry, wife of John Gerry, pioneer building contractor of the city of Upland, occurred Sunday night after many months of illness. Mrs. Gerry had been a resident here for many years and had witnessed the growth of the city from the time the main line of the Santa Fe was built, in 1886.

The Gerry home for ten years previous to moving to its present location on Euclid avenue, was between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets on Euclid avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Gerry were active in the early days of the town, Mr. Gerry having been the contractor and builder of many of the homes and store buildings in Upland.

Mrs. Gerry leaves to mourn her loss a host of friends, for during her many active years here she was beloved by all who had the good fortune to know her.

Besides her husband, John Gerry, the immediate members of the family are two sons, Frank of Pasadena, and George of Taft, recently of the army; six daughters, Mrs. H. O. Blohm, Mrs. E. M. Maurer, Mrs. Reid Bordwell, Mrs. Harold C. Moore, Mrs. J. Lynward Grahame, all of Upland, and Miss Amanda Gerry of Honolulu. Ten grandchildren who dearly loved "Grandma" are today heart-broken, as are all of those who knew Mrs. Gerry.

The funeral service took place from Vedder's chapel today at two o'clock. Rev. Charles A. Kent, Rev. R. C. Stone, officiating at the service.

APPEAL FOR FATHERLESS

An appeal is again being made to the wonderful giving spirit of the Upland people this week for the fatherless children of France, through the Boy Scouts. Many of them will come to your homes within the next few days with picture post cards that we hope you will respond whenever possible. The Christmas card is only five cents, the grey one ten cents, and gives one day's food to an orphan. The blue is seventy cents and is sufficient for one week's food while the purple one means a whole month of nourishment and safe keeping. The Boy Scouts are doing this work all for the cause and are giving their time most willingly, so please give them your consideration when they call. The number of people who respond to the last appeal was most encouraging to the local committee but there are still plenty of children unprovided for in France. Any one may easily express their sympathy and compassion for these unhappy children in dollars which the treasurer, Mr. H. S. Wilson, or Miss Edith Hanson, will be pleased to accept.

INFLUENZA CONDITIONS ARE GOOD, SAYS OFFICER

Influenza conditions here are excellent, says Health Officer E. R. Bowman, the only house quarantined for the disease being that of Bowman himself. It seems that the health officer had a cold so he stayed at home for three or four days. His friends, in the still night, stole a march on him, and in the morning what should greet his eyes but a flaming sign across the front of his house bearing the following: "This house is quarantined for influenza." "Doc" says if he had it he is over it and the quarantine is lifted.

The Emergency Hospital is now closed and indications are that there will be no more use for it if conditions continue the same as they are today.

Present indications are that on January 1st he can be lifted and Upland will have passed through the ordeal with less than six deaths.

THANK YOU

The committee in charge of the Red Cross Bazaar wish to thank all the people who participated in any way to make it such a success. When all the proceeds are collected the grand total will be near $300.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS OVERSEAS

"On the 6th of August for about an hour and a half I wasn't certain I was coming back to Upland," said W. Wright Hamilton, yesterday, he having just stepped off the train from New York.

Hamilton is a seaman gunner and is of the U. S. Armed Guard Detail, and on his left arm wears a letter "E" which stands for excellency in marksmanship, while the gold chevron just below the "E" is for five months' service in the war zone.

Gunner Hamilton was for five months on transport convoy duty, making the trip from New York to Brest, France, and Liverpool, England.

One clash with three submarines on the 6th of August resulted in his ship losing some of its upper parts, but one submarine was sunk by his ship and the other submarines left the scene of action as the battle became too hot for them.

Although Gunner Hamilton has numerous experiences to relate the most pleasant one occurred when he met Quartermaster Barton of one of the transports. As the men visited it developed that Gunner Hamilton's father, J. F. Hamilton, of this city, and Quartermaster Barton were old time comrades, and when J. F. was captain of a company in service in Cuba, Quartermaster Barton was made a corporal by Captain Hamilton.

Gunner Hamilton is the first man to return from the war zone and his many friends here are extending him a cordial welcome and he is firm in the opinion that now that his battle-ship experiences are over he wouldn't have missed them for a great deal—but the 6th day of August is firmly fixed in his mind, for there were explosives everywhere, but nothing hit him, although for an hour and a half he was in the thick of it.

Friends of Sergeant H. C. Moore are rejoicing at the news received this week by Mrs. Moore to the effect that he is again with his company in Belgium. A telegram from the government caused considerable shock a short time since when it was announced that he had been seriously injured. It developed that the injury was one of which the people here were already informed, but not hearing from Mr. Moore concern was felt until this week when Mrs. Moore received a letter with the news that he was again with his company and in good health, with plenty to eat and a good quarters in which to live.

Arthur J. Carpenter, now in France, writes he is still a little sore from the injury he received in wreck on his way East. The car he was in turned over twice going down the grade. He says, "We have a hard time trying to talk French. I cannot make them understand what I want when I go in the stores. Things are in bad shape over here, as they have sent everything they have to the front to help win this war. They drive cattle to work in the fields. Say, Pa, how would you like to hitch up two cows on a plow and go out to work? All the wagons are two-wheeled carts. They cook in fire places. About all they have to eat is bread and wine, and the wine is so sour it puts your teeth on edge."

Sergeant LeRoy Gregg of the Aerial Service, from Waco, Texas, is home for a few days, having a thirty day furlough. Sergeant Gregg will be here over the holidays.

Harold J. Burt arrived in Upland Tuesday morning from Edgewood arsenal, Maryland, where he has just been released from the analytical laboratory of the Chemical Warfare Service. The Chemical Warfare Service is the newest service of the war department, nevertheless when the armistice was signed it was performing efficiently its work of manufacturing poison gas, loading it into shells and delivering them on the western front. On November 11 the American plants had a manufacturing capacity greater than that of England and France combined. Edgewood arsenal alone by next spring would have had 10 tons of mustard gas to Germany's one ton, and could have smothered the western front with undreamed quantities of poison gas. Now that production has stopped 2500 of the 8000 enlisted employees at the arsenal are released. The remainder are storing the shells and putting the arsenal building in repair.

Lieut. Dexter A. Rau and Mrs. Rau arrived here today from Louisville, Ky., and will spend several months here with Mrs. Rau's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Rice. Mr. Rau's parents reside at Pasadena.

Norban Hargroves is at home, having been among those demobilized at Fort McArthur last Saturday.

Lieut. Arthur Pehl arrived from Camp Lewis this week and his many friends here have been extending him a hearty welcome, he having been absent for nearly one year.

La Courtiue, France, Nov. 19, 1918.
Dear Father and Mother:

Your letter of Sept. 30 received with Lewis' letter on Nov. 18th. So glad to hear from you and that you were so better. I received the previous package of Upland papers but have not received the ones you mentioned sending in this letter.

November 24 is Father's Day and we all are to write a letter to our fathers on that day, so be on the lookout for one.

When I got up this morning the ground was white with a light fall of snow, so the nights are very cold. We have to have a fire in the office all day now. Not so many soldiers are sick with influenza so we are not so busy as before. Apples are high here, five small ones for two francs (35 cents). We had ice cream about a week ago, only one dish though. Think of it! But that is more than many a soldier has had in France this year. We had to go about 20 miles for ice. I enjoyed the birthday cards very much. Wishing a very merry Christmas and the best of health, I am,
Your loving son,
HARRY L. JENISON.

La Courtiue, France, Nov. 24, 1918.
My Dear Father:

As outlined by the "Stars and Stripes," our A. E. F. paper, some of the time during the day is to be used by the soldiers over here in writing to three first commanding officer—or in other words, a Christmas Victory letter to you.

I can't give you any stirring scenes from the front as some of the boys can tell their fathers, but we have been behind backing them up the best we can, and they sure have accomplished astonishing results and crowned glory on their names that will last forever and be revered by all. It appears that we'll have the privilege of seeing home and loved ones again some day and, believe me, we will be one glad bunch when that eventful day arrives, which we hope is not many months distant. What a glorious day that will be. The beacon lights welcoming us brightly and the wonderful fragrance

IF YOU'RE DISCOVERED--YOU'RE LOST

Mrs. Bess Jones baked a lemon pie the other day and took it to the Red Cross bazaar.

Leavenworth Wheeler is especially fond of lemon pie, and Mrs. Wheeler, knowing that fact, purchased the pie for the sum of 50c.

A few minutes after the pie was purchased, said pie was gone and S. O. S. calls were sent out not only in search of the pie, but for a Pyrex glass dish costing $1.25, which the pie occupied.

The News office wireless sputtered and we were asked to assist, but before the News leased wire got under operation the Pyrex glass dish was found, and where the pie went only the men writing receipts for those joining the Red Cross know.

Yesterday was a strenuous day with them and as the afternoon wore on they needed something filling for the inner man. Lemon pie was their favorite brand and thus may be put together the tale of who purloined that pie.

The result was three fold. The men had to pay $1.00 for the pie; Leavenworth Wheeler didn't get any of it, and the men who ate it say that if Mrs. Jones wants a recommendation as to her ability as a culinary artist each of those who ate the pie will write a recommendation.

YANKEE FIVE ENTERTAINS AT COVINA

Friday evening of last week, the "Yankee Five Entertainers," as they style themselves, consisting of Mrs. Florence Cowan-Richards, violinist; Miss Marjorie Deane Reynolds, piano; longues and character readings; Chas. Walker, baritone; Allan O'Hara, saxophonist; and Earle Foersman, pianist, gave one of their programs in connection with a Boy Scouts entertainment at Covina. Owing to the influenza scare, the attendance was somewhat curtailed, though the local lunch made such a decided hit that they were obliged to agree to return for a later engagement in the same city, after health conditions have improved. Several months ago these same entertainers appeared at March Field, Riverside, and gave a program. So well were they received, in this instance, that Rev. Stone, in charge of the Y. M. C. A. entertainment, work there called them back again, on Tuesday evening of this week, when they gave another of their programs, before an audience which tested the capacity of the auditorium. On Friday evening of this week the "Yankee Five" is billed to appear in Pomona, in connection with an entertainment given by one of the lodges there, and later dates will take them to both San Dinias and to Monrovia.

FIVE CENT FARE PROBABLE

The Pacific Electric is working on a plan looking to the restoration of the five-cent fare between Ontario and Upland. A representative went to Los Angeles and presented to the P. E. officials the injustice of local people being compelled to pay ten cents for a ride far shorter in many cities where the five-cent fare obtained. It was discovered that the distance from Ontario to Upland on the P. E. is 2.66 miles, while in Pomona one may ride from Third to Garey to North Pomona, a distance of 2.77 miles, for a jitney. It was claimed that the local fare resulted from a blanket ruling of the railroad commission on a flat rate of mileage that is too technical to explain in a short space.

RETURNS FROM MEXICO

E. P. Fuller has just returned from Mexico where he has been locating water for the Grisel Mining Company, 190 miles from the border. The company is hauling water 25 miles by auto trucks from the Colorado river. He reports a fine trip. He says there are just three things to do when you get to the line: Have a passport or stay on this side or be shot. He traveled 190 miles into Mexico by auto; traveled through thousands of acres of cotton fields, and saw herds of antelope, duck and geese.

HOWARD LEE REPRESENTS UPLAND AT DELIVERY OF FLEET BY THE GERMANS

Miss Madelyn Chaffee has just received a letter from Howard Lee and as he relates of his experiences, the letter will be of interest to Howard's many friends here.

U. S. S. Arkansas, Nov. 24, 1918.

Dear Madelyn:—Received your long looked for letter yesterday. I have been on a ten day leave and just got back last night. I and two other fellows out of this division went to Edinburgh and London. We sure had some time, too. Went through the Westminster Abbey in London and a lot of other places. We also went through the old Edinburgh Castle. Perhaps you have heard of it. Queen Mary used to live there. When we got to London they were celebrating, it being only a couple of days after the armistice was signed, so we helped them celebrate. I hardly closed my eyes all the time I was there. By the way, Madelyn, now that peace has been signed, they have quit censoring mail, so I can tell you where I am. I am at the Arkansas and four other of our best battleships are anchored at Firth of Forth, Scotland as a unit of the Sixth Battle Squadron of the Grand Fleet. You look on the map for Firth of Forth, Scotland, and then look out in the North Sea and you will see some little islands. Those are the Orkney Islands. That is one of our bases. When we first came over, that was the first place we hit, coaled ship and started for here. About half way we got in a fight with three subs; they fired two torpedoes at us, but we did some speedy maneuvering and they both missed. One came in a few yards of our stern. I thought we got one of them but am not certain. They found it too hot on top so they submerged. We went out and brought in the German fleet the other day. They didn't have a word to say. We were hoping they had a little fight left in them, but they were as peaceful as lambs. Well, Peggy, I will close for this time as I can't think of much right now.

Thanks for the picture. I think it is real good of you and will send you one of mine as soon as I get one taken. Well, goodbye for this time. Write soon. With love,
HOWARD LEE.

U. S. S. Arkansas, care P. M. New York.

P. S.—Will be back in the United States soon.

EDITH CAVELL ELECTS MRS. ISAAC C. BAXTER, REGENT

At a business meeting of the Edith Cavell chapter, held last Friday at the home of Mrs. W. F. G. Blaikie in Ontario, the resignation of the regent, Mrs. William Laidlaw, was read, and reluctantly accepted. Mrs. Laidlaw has been for the past six months in Australia, and the date of her return being so uncertain, was the reason for resigning the regency of the chapter. The members in accepting it, expressed their regret, and conferred on Mrs. Laidlaw the title of honorary regent, in recognition of her services during the past four years. Mrs. Isaac C. Baxter was unanimously chosen regent, while the positions of first and second vice-regents are now filled by Mrs. W. F. G. Blaikie and Mrs. John N. Huehn.

Now that the war is over the work of the chapter, while continuing along the lines of war relief and reconstruction, will also be devoted to other interests, the most important being the establishment of a center of help for any one needing friends or assistance of any description.

Since last July the amount of work done has been 84 pairs of socks, 16 pairs of pyjamas suits, 24 hospital shirts, 18 taped hospital bed shirts, 24 lysol jackets, and 50 triangular bandages.

The weekly meetings will take place as usual after the New Year, the second Friday of each month being the business meeting.

The annual meeting of the Imperial Valley Beekeepers' association was held in El Centro Tuesday, Nov. 12, with a large attendance.

Salute to the Flag

"I pledge allegiance to the American Flag;
And the Republic for which it stands;
One Nation, indivisible,
With Liberty and Justice for all."

IN a statement received at Pacific Division headquarters from the Red Cross War Council, a review of the Red Cross fiscal year is given as follows:

It cost the American Red Cross but two cents of each dollar of the millions appropriated to operate the administrative bureaus in the United States which took a vital part in the management of the greatest relief program the world had ever known. For each dollar contributed by the American people for war relief work more than one dollar and one cent is expended for that purpose, the extra cent being provided by interest on the funds. These are two of the striking statements in the annual financial report of the Red Cross covering the fiscal year ending June 30, 1918.

All the expenses of operating the national and divisional headquarters of the organization whose sheltering arm has embraced a large part of the earth in the last eighteen months come from a fund provided by membership dues, the war fund not being drawn upon for any but relief expenditures. The total management expense of the organization for the fiscal year was $2,164,865.

Included in this total was the amount necessary to maintain the organization at national headquarters in Washington, the heart and brain of the Red Cross, and the fourteen divisional headquarters, the arteries of the organization running through continental and territorial United States.

The above total expenditure for the administrative bureaus at headquarters was divided as follows:

War Council staff, which includes advisory committees and clerical forces reporting to the war council, the latter body directing all Red Cross activities, $58,537;
General manager's office, $111,640;
Department of development, which directs the money raising and membership campaigns and the work of the chapter organizations, $197,126;
Department of printing including costs of printing, postage, etc., $197,712;
Department of accounts, $76,222;
Office of treasurer, $22,348;
Office of secretary, $17,980;
Bureau of standards, $36,329;
Department of foreign relief, $5,685;
Bureau of cables, $3,463;
Bureau of insurance, $940;
Administrative supplies, $40,816;
Operation of buildings and grounds, $92,058;

All the foregoing items refer to the national headquarters organization. The expenditure for maintaining the fourteen divisional headquarters was $1,303,910.

At the time the report was compiled there were 8,512 persons employed in various capacities at national, divisional and the different foreign headquarters of the organization, close to 2,000 of this number being volunteer workers. More than 3,500 workers are employed overseas.

In commenting on the volunteer labor of the 8,000,000 women workers in Red Cross chapters, report calls attention to the fact that the American Red Cross has been conducting one of the largest merchandising businesses in the world. During the years, its supplies bureaus at various points of essential relief supplies aggregated $20,000,000. These bureaus also purchased relief supplies valued at $2,300,000 for use in the training camps of this country, and materials that cost $12,500,000 for shipment to Red Cross commissions overseas. The Red Cross is a great business as well as relief organization and requires specialists in many lines.

In less than eleven months the American people gave more than $300,000,000 to the American Red Cross, by far the greatest sum ever contributed by any nation for humanitarian work. This total represents the proceeds of the two Red Cross war fund and one membership drives.

General Petain, commander-in-chief of the armies of the north and northeast, pays the following tribute to the American Red Cross in a communication sent to Lieut. Col. Gibson, Red Cross commissioner for France:

"I have just received the letter in which you announce that the commission of the American Red Cross has voted a new credit of 10,000,000 francs in favor of the most needy families of French officers, non-commissioned officers and soldiers.

"I address to you and beg you to transmit to all of the members of the American Red Cross my personal thanks as well as those of the French armies under my command.

"The intervention of the American Red Cross in both the material and moral domain has not ceased to manifest itself since the great republic of the United States entered the war. It is particularly agreeable to me to feel again your charitable support at the moment when our troops, who have fought without cessation for more than four years, perceive the dawn of the day when France shall be liberated and when the Allied nations shall be in full victory."

"I know that in addressing the American Red Cross I speak in reality to the people of the United States. My thanks, therefore, go to your people and I am happy thus to have the occasion to transmit to them the evidence of the grateful affection of our army.

"The French troops will remain under arms probably for a long time, but thanks to your intervention, many of the cares will be dissipated and many of the misfortunes will be lightened.

"In the name of the humble ones who have been sacrificed I thank you again, Mr. Commissioner, and beg you to accept the assurance of my very distinguished consideration."

A brief statement of what the Red Cross accomplishments in the Pacific division were during the past year include:

The shipment of 17,243,165 articles overseas (these were made in the work rooms of the 168 chapters in the division);

More than 250 men and women Red Cross workers sent overseas;

The assignment of 1,307 nurses for duty overseas and in army camps at home;

69,523 Christmas packages sent to soldiers in 1917;

614 tons of clothing for Belgian relief;

$7,805,675 subscribed to the second war fund drive (total subscription in the two war fund drives was $11,512,763);

Junior Red Cross membership of 649,605;

Placing army order for 90,000 pieces of work for Junior boys and girls;

An average of 3,196 families per month cared for by Home Service committees at an average cost of $22,364.84 per month;

The establishment of salvage and shop committees throughout the division, which have turned about $525,000 into chapter treasuries for relief work.

This in brief is what the Pacific division has accomplished during the past year. Each chapter in the division has its own record to place before the public, which adds local interest to the campaign. This interest in itself will be one of the factors to guarantee the desired 100 per cent membership in the Pacific division.

AMERICA'S CIVILIAN ARMY

Before the war began the United States government employed approximately 500,000 persons in the civil branch. After Uncle Sam cast his lot definitely with the Allies the great army of workers behind the fighting forces grew by tens of thousands until it numbered almost a million men and women. The forces of civilian employees of the government in the District of Columbia increased from about 35,000 to approximately 95,000. The forces in navy yards increased from about 20,000 to more than 100,000, and in government ordnance plants from 10,000 to about 50,000.

During the nineteen months of American participation in the conflict the United States civil service commission, whose duty it was to recruit the civil service to meet war needs, examined almost a million persons, more than 400,000 of whom were appointed.

The commission found it necessary to advertise extensively to mobilize the workers. Three thousand local boards of civil service examiners and 8000 postmasters at third class postoffices in the smaller towns constantly kept the announcements of the commission before their respective communities. More than 5,000,000 posters and other printed announcements were distributed and displayed; lantern slides were thrown upon the screens in 16,000 motion picture theaters; cards were displayed in 28,000 trolley cars; notices were printed in 6,000 newspapers and more than 200 periodicals; posters were displayed upon the bulletin boards of 3,000 libraries, 1,200 chambers of commerce and boards of trade, and in many other prominent places in every city in the country. Appeals for recruits were also printed on the backs of gas and electric light bills, on letterheads of business houses, in theater programs and on weather bureau bulletins. Thirty motion picture producing companies either posed special pictures or attached trailers to films. Educational institutions and numerous organizations assisted in the work. The only cost to the government for millions of dollars' worth of advertising was for the printing of posters and circulars and for the making of lantern slides.

From now on the civilian personnel will be gradually reduced.

Bean growers are being urged by the association to hold on to their beans. Stocks are moving rapidly from the state and prospects are for better prices.

The California Lima Bean Growers association has sent out $2,000,000 as partial payment to growers who delivered Limas during the month of October.

San Dimas is proud of the big new orange marmalade factory put up by the citrus growers.

Southern California's acreage of celery is only half that of last year; Orange county only having in 200 acres.

It is estimated that Imperial valley will ship out 40 carloads of turkeys during the Thanksgiving and Christmas season.

A Redlands by-products plant has just finished a large pack of apple butter and is now ready to turn its attention to making of orange marmalade.

WOMAN'S STATEMENT WILL HELP UPLAND

"I hated cooking because whatever I ate gave me sour stomach and a bloated feeling. I drank hot water and olive oil by the gallon. Nothing helped me until I tried simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., at mixed in Adler-ika." Because it flushes the ENTIRE bowel tract completely Adler-ika relieves ANY CASE sour stomach, gas or constipation and prevents appendicitis. The INSTANT action is surprising. O. P. Cucamonga District

Items of Interest as Gathered by a News Special Correspondent in Cucamonga, Alta Loma and Cucamonga South Side

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Crosswell motored in to Los Angeles Monday on business and a little shopping tour.

Mrs. George T. Morris is now nicely convalescing from her long siege with the flu fever; is able to sit up on the porch some of the time, and her many friends hope soon to see her about again.

The Cucamonga Women's club are holding their annual reception to the women of Alta Loma and Cucamonga this afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. C. Belden, on Hellman avenue.

Richard Wainwright, who has been ill with the influenza the past week, is reported doing nicely and will soon be about again. In the meantime, of Patmaster Lucas, or his son, Master Percy, has been looking after the rural mail.

F. A. Lucas left last Friday to attend a meeting of the grape growers in San Francisco. He was expected home the following Tuesday. Over 150 grape men from Southern California were expected in San Francisco for the meeting Saturday.

Little Agnes Theresa Lucas, wee daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon F. Lucas, is now recovering from her recent severe illness.

Walter E. Kincaid has now entirely recovered from the flu and is back in the market again.

Homer Stipe and Liston Crowell are at home again, having received their discharges from the training schools at the Redlands and U. S. C. universities, Redlands and Los Angeles respectively.

Mrs. Ferguson, who resides near the Nazarine parsonage, Archibald avenue, is reported confined to her home this week with the influenza. Five or six cases are reported to the east of here, but on the whole, the epidemic situation is clearing up considerably the past week.

Miss Beattie Stipe was home from the Los Angeles Normal for the week-end.

Mrs. Harry DeBerard shopped in Pomona Tuesday.

Mrs. Helen Sommererville spent Monday shopping in Upland and Ontario.

Mr. A. Dewey planned a fine trip with friends to San Pedro last Sunday.

Mrs. Lottie Wheeler returned Sunday evening from Los Angeles where she had been spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Alice Klotz.

James Sharp has secured the contract from the Italian Vineyard company for the making of twelve miles of cement pipe line. He is manufacturing the pipe right on the ground.

Miss Mary Lucas, Miss Opal Harvey and Miss Constance Thorpe are all expected home from Ramona convent to spend their two weeks' Christmas holiday with their parents.

Miss Kate Molsinger returned last Thursday from Los Angeles, the city schools having been closed again on account of the increased number of influenza cases among the school children.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cowan and Mrs. Mayo and children motored out from the Angel City Sunday for a little visit at the home of their sister, Mrs. Helen Sommererville, returning home that evening.

Nelson Van Fleet, Jr., has received his discharge from the Naval Training school at San Pedro and is at home again.

Chas. Bauer and W. L. Dana motored to Anaheim Saturday on business.

Leo Lucas, who is attending the Brownberger Commercial Business college in Los Angeles, is expected home for the Christmas holidays.

Edwin Molsinger is well over a mild attack of the flu and able to be out.

Mrs. Harry I. DeBerard and Mrs. Arthur M. DeBerard were among the guests at an informal affair in Ontario Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Chafe went in to Los Angeles Monday on business and may remain the rest of the week.

Mrs. Josephine Delphin, wife of John Delphin, of Alta Loma, passed into the Great Beyond on last Friday, a victim of influenza-pneumonia.

Deceased left to mourn her loss, besides the husband, two small children. Mr. Delphin himself is also ill with the malady. Funeral services for Mrs. Delphin were held Saturday at Bellevue cemetery.

Mrs. A. G. Markham, having a birthday anniversary last week, was delightedly surprised by her family with a delicious chicken dinner, after which the dining room was darkened and a great white birthday cake with glowing candles marking the date appeared on the festive board before the honoree, while birthday gifts were showered in her lap. The entire family shared in the pleasure of so surprising the "mater familias."

Mrs. Henrietta Rowe has received word from her son, Corporal Sam Rowe, dated as late as the 19th of November, that he is now safe and well, and billeted "somewhere in France," as the soldiers' mail appears to be still under censorship. He reports a nice trip overseas, proving to be a good sailor, but has no knowledge as to when they may be returned home.

The many friends here of Judge W. H. Thomas, of Santa Ana, and a brother of Mr. H. H. Thomas, will be glad to hear of his appointment as associate justice of the new appellate court of Orange county. Judge Thomas has served as superior judge for six years, being first appointed by Governor Johnson when a second superior judgeship was created. Later he was elected for a six year term, four years of which will be up Jan. 1st. He has won attention through his lectures and his stand against divorces and his activity as a temperance and Chautauqua lecturer. Judge Thomas on several occasions has addressed meetings here and in this vicinity during the different Liberty Loan campaigns and Memorial Day exercises.

December 18th to 25th will be known as "Children's Week" through the Junior Red Cross organization in the schools. A great deal of interest among the scholars is now being taken in the campaign for adopting French and Belgian orphans. The sum of $36.50 will care for one orphan for one year, and some of the schools, having funds on hand, are considering adopting an orphan. Besides the great good to the cause they would be doing, it would prove a fine and interesting lesson in French and in broadening the American mind of the younger generation; the schools would be in touch by correspondence with their "adopted child."

Central school is open this week to the seventh and eighth grades only. The other grades may not open until after the first of the year.

Meeting at Union Mission

There will be a meeting held at the Union Mission next Saturday evening, Dec. 21, at 7:30 o'clock, at which time the question as to what disposal of the mission will be made, will come up before the meeting for decision. Every one interested in the disposition of the property of the Union Mission is requested to be present and cast their vote. Rev. J. N. Gortner will preside.

Conservation Message No. 3

IF THE TRUTH WERE KNOWN—There would be no use for Courts, Councils, Committees, Congresses, Juries, Tribunals or Quorums, whose only function is to debate and decide doubtful questions and whose verdict is always determined by the majority.

The majority of the most reputable, established dealers in Upland, Ontario and vicinity, whose signatures appear below, are united in their decisions on many questions of importance to automobile owners. Our messages are therefore valuable because anything pertaining to automobiles which all of us can agree on, must be right.

We want to tell you without qualification and from every standpoint that Good-year Tires are the best tires in the world. There are none better. The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company are the squarest manufacturers in the business. If they were not we would not represent them or sell their goods. They have the intention backed by the ability to make good tires. We have absolutely adopted their suggestions in regards to conservation of rubber products. We have carefully worked out plans where by tire waste will be eliminated almost, if not entirely.

Come in and let us go over this proposition with you. You will be interested.

Christmas Boxes to County Hospital

All the women's club of the county are sending Christmas boxes this year to the inmates of the general hospital in San Bernardino. The Cucamonga Women's club is making up a box to be shipped by not later than Saturday of this week, for the benefit of the elderly men who make their homes at the hospital. Among the articles listed as wanted are razors, bed socks, writing tablets, pencils, envelopes, wooden pipes, tobacco, confections, and nuts. The razors and warm bed socks have been already supplied and if any club member or interested party wishes to help in this very worthy cause, bringing a little Christmas cheer and Yuletide greetings to these inmates in our county hospital, please leave any donations as above, or money to purchase same, with the committee at the Red Cross work rooms on tomorrow, Friday afternoon.

Christmas Roll Call

Name, Miss Mary Helene Davenport, just safely arrived at my house via the "Stork Route," and realizing the great beneficence of the American Red Cross, demands instant membership. Will be right down after her service flag and the 1919 badge." This from the new baby's proud paternal parent, M. H. Davenport, who registers as vice chairman of the Christmas Roll Call. Mr. and Mrs. Davenport are receiving congratulations from their many friends and acquaintances over the advent of their wee daughter, Mary Helene. All doing nicely.

Roll Call Team Workers

Uniformed in their natty red service caps and arm bands, white aprons and caps, our Red Cross Roll Call workers are as busy as bees in a clover field this week. The district has been divided into four divisions: Alta Loma district, under Miss Melba Case, team captain; Cucamonga district, under Miss Frances Hov, team captain; South side, under Miss Grace Markham, team captain; and Guasti, under Mr. A. Salavago, of the Italian Vineyard. The workers are: Misses Mary and Eleanor Albert, Marian Belden, Naomi and Audrey Hawkey, Ruth Elder, Margaret Johnston, Alédo Dahlem, Florence Minor, Hilda Brandt, Maud Garrard, Theresa Van Fleet and Maud Mark-

Alice will come back and see me in the summer. Don't give up that trip, whatever you do, for it will do you a world of good and also you will be able to see your folks in Michigan.

Well, I very near forgot to tell you what a fine Thanksgiving I had. One of the fellows in our company invited me to his home for dinner. He lives here in Chillicothe. Two other fellows from the barracks were invited. I had a fine dinner. All the tenderest turkey I ever ate, and all I wanted. Two kinds of potatoes, and gravy and dressing, cranberries, olives, pickles, celery, coffee, cake, ice cream, etc. In the afternoon we went for a long ride in one of those big cars which are all closed in. I really had a fine time.

Just at present a number of things are happening in our company. We received orders from Washington to divide the present company into two equal parts. One part (consisting of two officers and 50 men) to be the ordnance armament company, which will be for the purpose of preparing all ordnance equipment and will cease to have anything to do with the supply of material. The other part will be transferred to the general staff, which is a new branch to be formed and will take in all supply functions of the ordnance, medical quartermaster, engineer and signal corps. The change takes place tomorrow. The captain and first lieutenant remain in the ordnance armament company and they picked 50 men they wanted to keep in their company. I was lucky enough to be one of the men the captain wanted, so I will be in the ordnance armament company. Everything is rearranged and new positions given out. I still remain in the office and am to hold down next to the highest position. First comes chief clerk, which is taken by a man who worked for a long while in the Washington office. Next comes the armament record clerk, who is myself. I have a stenographer, so all I need to do is to see that the work is done right. Nothing like making people think you are capable anyway.

Also I must not forget to tell you that I now wear three stripes on my arm. I was made sergeant to-night at retreat. That is quite a jump from private to sergeant which is nearly the highest rank below a commissioned officer. I will now draw $44 per month instead of $30. I thought all promotions were cancelled, but this special order came through from Washington. I had been in for promotion since October 1st but only for corporal.

I want to call Dad's attention to the fact that before it gets very cold there, he had better get some anti-freezing solution to put in the Ford. Wood or denatured alcohol is good to use. If the water freezes in the pipes and cylinders they are apt to break like that old engine I had in Upland. I am sending one of those Ford manuals which I found lying around here. I read it through and found several things it was well to know. If you haven't already obtained one of these little books it will be well to read this one over. I would like to be able to drive the Ford to Roseburg again, but I do get to drive a Ford here quite often. I drove the captain's Ford up to church this morning. We have two Fords in our company.

I received a letter from Denver yesterday. He wrote it before peace came and had no idea the war was so near over. He is and has been for some time right behind the lines. I guess he has had quite some exciting times from what he says. Al-so did I tell you I had a letter from Walter Weiland not long ago. He is down in Arizona, but says he is going home in June.

Well, I think I have written enough, so will say goodbye. With lots of love. LEO.
Sergeant Leo J. Sharps, 108th Ordnance Depot Co., Camp Sherman, Ohio.

Orleans, France, Nov. 24, 1918.
Dear Papa:—This is Sunday, but Sunday in the army is not Sunday in civil life. This morning my thoughts just happened to wander to Sunday morning at home. I looked at my watch and it was 8:40 a. m., so you people and I too if I were at home, were just about ready to go to church. Since I left the U. S. I have not attended a church service anywhere because I had no opportunity. We, here in the hospital, work Sundays just as on other days.

I have written you several times since I arrived in France, but I don't know whether you have received those letters, but I suppose you did. I wrote you from England and also while at sea.

We were 14 days at sea; we left New York Sept. 8 and landed at Glasgow, Scotland, Sept. 21. We were there about 12 hours and then we got aboard an English train and rode in that for 14 hours and landed at Winchester, England, the next morning. From there I wrote and told you that we were placed under quarantine for 21 days. We left of the flowers and fields over which we used to roam, if it be in that time of the year when they are in their splendor. There is much debate as to which troops will have this pleasure first. So far the wounded have gone first and it is their rightful privilege, for they have had greater sacrifice than we who have not seen the front, and we are willing to give them first choice. The day is still in my memory when you told me as my first commanding officer to "about face."

Wishing you the greatest of days for Christmas and hoping your health will not interfere in the least with its festivities, I am,

Your loving son,

SGT. HARRY L. JENSON.

164 Field Hosp. Co., A. P. O. 722, Am. E. F.

Camp Sherman, O., Dec. 1, 1918.

Dear Father and Mother:

I will write you a short letter to-night to tell you how I spent my Thanksgiving and also to tell you I am well. I received your letter yesterday afternoon and was glad to hear you were well. I was quite surprised to learn that the leaves had not fallen in Oregon yet and that it had not been cold there. It has been real cold here for a couple of months and it has been quite a while since the leaves left the trees. We have not had any snow yet, however, which seems to surprise the people who live in this state. It seems quite natural to me, however.

I wrote a letter to Aunt Kate not long ago and a few days ago I received a letter from her which I am enclosing. She seems to want me to come up, so if I can get a pass I am going up there to spend Christmas. I am going to ask for a several days' furlough. I don't remember Aunt Kate at all, but since I received her letter I am quite anxious to go up for she must be a great deal like you. Her letter was just like yours are. I sure would like to get back and see you this Christmas, mother, but as it is impossible I suppose we must make the best of it.

I wish you were right when you say I will only be here a month, but I know only too well that I will see spring here at least.

I was so glad to hear that you and

The pretty apron and useful darning and sewing bags that the Guild women of St. Mark's have on hand will be for sale at Campbell's Ready-to-Wear store after today. Mr. Campbell has kindly consented to assist the women in disposing of them and any one wishing serviceable and attractive Christmas gifts can easily purchase them from the selection of articles.

H. Little is now the Upland representative of the Southern California Fertilizer company, and will have his office next to B. L. Byer's office, on Second avenue. Until Mr. Little's office phone is placed those desiring to call him on the phone are asked to call phone 161-W.

Mrs. H. B. Taylor of Wilson avenue has had as her home guest her sister, Mrs. Hole, of Omaha, for the last few weeks. Mrs. Hole returned to her home on Monday, in time to spend Christmas with her family.

Mrs. Ben French is expected home today from the Alta Loma sanitarium. Mrs. French is greatly improved in health and decidedly better for her stay at the sanitarium.

Among those who have spent part of this week in Los Angeles are Mrs. C. E. Grier, Mrs. R. R. Brownson, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Hanson, Mrs. J. M. Webster, Mrs. H. Little.

We frame more pictures every day. The Sikes-Manker Co.

The Wah-wah say see Camp Fire Girls are planning a jolly hike tomorrow, under the direction of their guardian, Miss Harwood. Starting early on Friday they will walk up to Canyon Home, two miles beyond Camp Baldy, and spend the night at the cabins. A trip to Mt. Lookout is thought of for Saturday morning, the party returning to Upland in the evening. Each member is taking a friend and a jolly time is anticipated. Those going are Miss Harwood, Geraldine Norton, Lena Leahy, Elizabeth Fredendall, Mildred and Winifred Bost and Grace Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Adams were Los Angeles visitors last week.

Today the Priscilla Circle members are meeting at the home of Mrs. David Ward and making more garments for the French and Belgians.

Our watch repair department is up to date. We do all watch work in a satisfactory manner. Palis the Jeweler.

Among those who met two days last week at the home of Mrs. W. B. Cavers to make pajama suits, which were needed at once, were Mrs. H. J. Powell, Mrs. William Rohrig, Miss Anna Rohrig, Mrs. Ira Dinger, Mrs. David Ward, Mrs. Royal Ward, Mrs. Wm. Springer, Mrs. T. J. Cromer, Mrs. R. N. Leahy, Mrs. Le Roy Bradley, Mrs. J. B. Leaman, Mrs. Charles Jenison. Some of the women who were unable to be present completed their share of suits at home.

Horace W. Moore, professor of history at Chaffey Union, who has been at the officers' training school at Camp Taylor, Ky., the past few months, arrived in Ontario this week and pleasantly surprised his friends by introducing his bride, formerly Miss Veneta Morrow, of Spearville, Kansas. Miss Morrow was a class mate of Mr. Moore's when they were students at Baker university, Baldwin, Kansas, and their friendship is of long standing. At present Mr. and Mrs. Moore are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cushing in Ontario. Mr. Moore will resume his position on the high school faculty after the new year.

We are giving 20 per cent off on all articles of brass and silver, toilet sets; also silver novelties, prior to Xmas. Palis the Jeweler.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Dinger, Verle Dinger and Phillip Leahy motored to Los Angeles on Sunday and spent the afternoon with cousins of Mrs. Dinger's in the city.

Now have that back curtain closed. A new glass will make a good Xmas present. The Harness Shop.

George B. Harrison, T. R. Woodbridge, Earl W. Paul and A. B. Whitney, four of the most successful fruit men in this locality, have recently formed a company, under the title of the Liberty Growers Operating Corporation, which is an entirely new departure in the caring of citrus property, modeled on the cooperative plan, by which the grower's crop is marketed. The idea is on a purely mutual basis and proposes to care for the groves of its members at cost, doing the plowing, irrigating, cultivating, fumigating, and fruit picking and hauling, the expense to the member being only the actual cost to the corporation.

If a grower wishes, he may turn certain work on his grove over to the concern, reserving the right to attend to certain details, such as pruning or irrigating, himself. One reason mentioned for the need of such an incorporation is the difficulty experienced by the growers here in obtaining labor. That the new plan will attract widespread interest is certain, and if successful, will mean the solution of many of the ranchers' troubles in growing and handling his fruit.

Dr. Mary Williamson drove to Pomona the other evening and left her car at the curb for a few moments. When she returned her car was gone. Within twenty-four hours afterward the car was found standing at the curb in San Pedro. As a boat left San Pedro that night it may have been two sailor boys who were a little late in returning and found it necessary to reach the coast in a hurry. The car was unharmed and nothing was disturbed in the car.

to good advantage when I get to school.

Orleans is a city of about 100,000 inhabitants and is built around a square in which there is a statue of Joan of Arc. No matter where you start from, if you keep on traveling, you are sure sooner or later to land at this square. The streets are the crookedest affairs I ever saw and they are about as wide as the usual American alley.

The biggest thing in town is the Joan of Arc cathedral and this is really worth seeing and going thru. From the tops of the towers of this cathedral a person can get a fine view of the whole city and parts of the surrounding country.

One thing about this, it has given me an opportunity to see Europe, an opportunity which, perhaps, I would never have had otherwise. I was in England about a month and so I have a good idea of that country. Don't know but what I'll get to Italy before I get home again.

The other evening in my ward the boys were talking about the 90th division. I opened my ears at once and asked them if one were from the 357th Infantry. One was, I asked him what company and he said, "Headquarters." That's what I wanted to know. I asked him if he knew John Dester. He did; That was almost as good as meeting some one from home. It's the first news that I have had about any one over here, whom I know. This boy says that John is doing fine. I don't think that John will get home so soon, for his company is a part of the 90th division and this division is a part of the army of occupation which will remain in Germany a while. I would like to see John himself, but I don't suppose that is likely to happen, unless accidentally. I have kept my eyes open for Gerry Schmidt in the towns and camps that I have been through, but I have been unable to find a trace of him. There are too many of the American boys over here to try to find some one.

Next Thursday is Thanksgiving day and Thanksgiving it will be! God in his mercy has finally seen fit to put an end to this awful struggle and Christmas this year should really find again "Peace on earth, good will toward men!" I sure would like to be at home then, but I guess that is not to be, as yet.

With love, yours, LUCAS.

Etiwanda

Happenings Here and There Gathered by a News Special Representative in and About the Famous Etiwanda Colony

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Etiwanda Congregational church was held Thursday afternoon in the church basement. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Fred Koch, who is still confined to her home as a result of influenza, Mrs. Lillian Cour acted as secretary pro tem. Mrs. A. A. Werner, as chairman of the committee for the annual bazaar, reported the excellent success of the supper and bazaar held on the afternoon and evening of Dec. 6th. A vote was taken to apply all money in the treasury at the end of the year, after all bills have been paid, to the church debt. A motion made by Mrs. C. W. Greenlee to have a committee appointed to meet with the trustees the first of the year to estimate the amount necessary to finance all branches of the church work and run the church on the budget plan henceforth was discussed and carried. Mrs. Fred Koch, Mrs. C. W. Greenlee and Mrs. Thomas Donnelly were appointed to attend to the matter. If it seems practical to the committee to do this the regular pay suppers as well as the calendar plan will be a thing of the past, and it is hoped that the society can give a series of social events in which money will be no object, as well as to be free to work with the Red Cross or in whatever way is most needed.

Thursday being the day for the annual election of officers for the Aid society, all officers were re-elected for the year 1919. They are: Mrs. A. C. Smith, president; Mrs. Lillian Cour, vice-president; Mrs. Fred Koch, secretary and treasurer. The ladies of the missionary committee expect to announce soon what plan has been adopted for raising the money they need for mission that ordinarily is made on the ladies' luncheon. This event had to be postponed on account of influenza and it has been thought unwise to give the luncheon now. It is probable that the amount will be made up by individual contributions.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Donnelly are very happy over the arrival Thursday, Dec. 12, of a little daughter at San Antonio hospital, Upland. A grandfather, Mr. E. G. Rader, and numerous uncles, aunts, and cousins in Etiwanda await the little lady's home coming with much interest. She has been named Elisabeth.

A week ago, when the Etiwanda Sunday school met for the first time in several weeks, the treasurer, Mr. Fred Koch, stated that while Sunday school had been closed and there had been no collections, the supplies still had to be paid for, as they had come regularly. Mrs. C. W. Greenlee's class of boys stated that they would bring the biggest collection "next Sunday" and a great deal of interest was taken by the children in the outcome of last Sunday's collection. When the boys put in their money it was found that they had four dollars, so far some other class would have "the same amount" they added one cent and reported $4.01. They have been the banner class for a good many weeks and no one was surprised that they led in Sunday's collection. The amount raised by the school was enough to defray the accumulated expenses of the Sunday school.

Mrs. C. W. Greenlee has invited her Sunday school class and their boy friends to meet at her home Thursday evening for a weiner roast on the tennis court, after which they are to play some of the new games Rev. Greenlee has written home the directions for playing.

Mr. William Sassard, whose health has been bad for the past several weeks, has gone to the Meunonite hospital near Upland for treatment. He was reported as very ill the first of the week. His friends here hope for his early recovery.

Mrs. John Humberstone accompanied Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ross and children to Los Angeles Wednesday where they spent the day at the Liberty Fair.

The Etiwanda friends of Mr. Clyde Westphal will be interested to know that he has resigned his clerkship in Cucamonga's hardware store to drive one of the large busses which run through Etiwanda in going between San Bernardino and Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Westphal will continue to live in Cucamonga.

Peter Howard, a near-to-nature disciple, who has made his home in Etiwanda for the past several weeks, while he has had work here cutting up firewood for W. E. Layton, Mrs. Alice Hippard, J. C. Jones and others, shook the dust of Etiwanda from his bare feet Thursday and journeyed to Los Angeles, where he expects to sojourn for a time.

The north wind Saturday morning saved Etiwanda a disastrous fire in the canyons. Some one in the north end of the settlement burned off some brush preparatory to making an alfalfa field on new land on Friday, and during the night a few overlooked coals started a fire, which worked toward the mountains quite slowly on account of the north wind. The night operator at the local sub-station of the Pacific Electric railway saw the blaze about three in the morning, and not having a local phone, telephoned over the company's line to A. C. Smith, who is night operator in San Bernardino. Mr. Smith notified the fire warden and called Etiwanda's central, Miss Nellie Fisher, over the Sunset line. She roused several of the men of the community and it was not long until the fire was under control. Messrs. Thomas Donnelly, O. H. Price, G. E. Frost, E. J. Perdue and many others were active in getting the fire extinguished before it reached the water shed. No damage was done.

Mr. Perry Orendorf, Sr., Mrs. J. B. McNurlin and Mrs. Rosetta Rupe were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Orendorf.

Judge and Mrs. Thomas Donnelly entertained the teachers, Misses Wilson, Trocksell and Way at dinner Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Troyer invited Rev. Ellis and daughter Mabel, of Rincon, to their home for dinner Sunday. Mr. Ellis spoke briefly Sunday evening at the meeting of the Christian Endeavor.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor are holding their services now at 5:30 in the evening. Miss Nellie Fisher led an interesting session on last Sunday evening. Special music was furnished by the Misses Catherine Brownless, Hazel Cour, Ethel Bilyeu, Bessie Troyer and Isabel Smith.

Mr. J. D. Orendorf received word Saturday from the Y. M. C. A. headquarters that they would have no further need of him and that he might resume his other duties. Mr. Orendorf has been waiting orders here for the past three weeks and thought it probable that he would not be called to foreign service but thought he might be called upon to help in some of the army camps.

Howard Frost of San Bernardino spent Sunday in Etiwanda.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Neece, for several years residents of Etiwanda, have sold their ranch on East avenue to Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ross. Mr. and Mrs. Ross with their family have come here recently from Cle Elum, Wash., and have been living out at the Canyon Springs ranch. They will continue to live there until some improvements are made in their new home. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Neece will regret to learn that they are not planning to make this their future home.

Manager D. R. Foss of the Citrus packing house has moved his family here from Fallbrook, Cal., and is living in the Robert Henderson home on Etiwanda avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson having decided to remain on the old Chantry ranch northeast of Etiwanda.

A long needed improvement is being made on Victoria avenue near the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Myers under the direction of Road Overseer George E. Utman, a regrade and fill vastly helping the roadbed.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bates and daughters, Esther Chase and Dorothy Bates, motored out from Los Angeles Sunday to spend the day with Mr. Bates' sister, Mrs. C. W. Greenlee.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Martindale and daughter are spending a few days in Los Angeles visiting friends. They plan to return Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Myers spent several days last week in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Rast and Mrs. Bauman received word Sunday morning of the serious illness of their son and brother in San Francisco. Mr. Fred Gilbert took them to Los Angeles Sunday as they left for San Francisco. They are living on the Canyon Springs ranch.

The San Bernardino papers Thursday in telling of the killed and injured on the flagship Brooklyn at Yokohama, Japan, on Wednesday, mentioned Robert W. Johnson of Riverside among the injured. Mr. Johnson is a nephew of Mrs. George E. Utman and has been a visitor in the past, in Etiwanda. Every one hopes his injuries are slight.

Mrs. A. C. Smith received word last week of the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Waugh, in Nashville, Tenn. In response to a telegram to Nashville saying she would start at once, Mrs. Smith received word that her mother would probably not live until her arrival, so the trip was given up. Later messages from Nashville, however, told of Mrs. Waugh's improvement and her friends here hope for her complete recovery. Mrs. Waugh spent a summer here recently with her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Smith, and family.

Miss Mae Orendorf received a telegram Saturday telling of the severe sickness of her grandmother. Mrs.

Crosslin, at the latter's home at Deer Creek, Okla. Miss Orendorf, who is a nurse at San Antonio hospital, Upland, came home Saturday hoping to arrange to go East, but her people here felt that the risk of a trip to that climate at this season was too great, particularly under existing conditions.

Mrs. J. D. Orendorf spent Wednesday with Mrs. J. B. McNurlin at Cucamonga.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Morris of Ontario spent Saturday with their daughter, Mrs. John Frost and family. Mrs. Fred Gilbert and son arrived home Thursday from San Antonio hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Jones and sons, of Riverside, spent Sunday with Capt. and Mrs. J. H. Scott and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barnes.

Mr. L. H. Tilden and daughters, Mrs. Lillian Cour and Mrs. Mamie Cour, are expecting their son and brother, Guy Tilden, here from Colorado for the holidays. Mr. Tilden had hoped to bring his family with him, but because of the influenza epidemic he felt it unwise to do so.

Mrs. Harvey Brubaker is expected here for Christmas with her sister, Mrs. Charles Donnelly, and her father, Mr. E. G. Rader.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Orendorf motored to Los Angeles Tuesday taking with them Mrs. Orendorf's mother, Mrs. Rupe, who will make a brief visit with her daughter, Mrs. S. W. Rixey, of Hollywood, before proceeding to Maricopa, where she will visit her daughters, Miss Rosetta Rupe and Mrs. J. J. Brandt and family. She plans to be away two months.

Edward Fisher, who has served his country since his enlistment in May, 1917, by working as a clerk in the quartermasters department at Camp Kearny, is the first of the Etiwanda boys to be honorably discharged since the close of the war. Edward was the first boy to enlist from here, his father having served as a soldier in the Rebellion, he said he could not think of waiting to be drafted when the country needed men.

The past week developed several new influenza cases in Etiwanda. These are confined to the Robert Henderson and Grover Henderson homes, the entire Grover Henderson family and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson and one of the children being sick.

The Red Cross entertainment that was to be given Tuesday evening at the hall has been postponed until Friday evening to await influenza developments, and may be still further postponed if it seems advisable. An excellent program is being arranged for, following which there will be a social dance. Home made candy will be for sale.

Miss Helen Burbank has been sick at her home for several days. She was getting better the first of the week.

Mr. C. N. Ross attended a lecture at Hilltop club in Los Angeles Thursday evening.

A group of Mr. Emmanuel Smith's relatives arrived from the East a few days ago and are visiting here for a time, occupying the cottage adjoining the Smith home. They are Mr. Smith's father, Mr. L. H. Smith, who has spent considerable time here in a past, a small grandson of his, and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Smith and son, and Mr. and Mrs. William Cooney. Mrs. Cooney is an aunt of Mr. Emmanuel Smith. Needless to say they are having a splendid time and an excellent visit together.

THERE IS STILL A CHANCE FOR YOU

If You are not Enrolled on the Red Cross Christmas Roll Call

Headquarters have been established in the Red Cross Shop on Ninth Street, first door west of the First National Bank, and will remain open all week between the hours of eight a. m. and five p. m.

If you were unable to get in on the Honor days you still have the opportunity of becoming a member of this wonderful organization.

There are a few people in Upland who have not enrolled. Can YOU afford not to be a member of the Red Cross? In the days to come when you read of the wonderful work the Red Cross has accomplished for the peoples of the world, will you feel with pride that you have been a part of this splendid organization, or must you stand aloof with the feeling that OTHER AMERICANS have had to bear your share of the responsibility of our obligation to humanity?

PUBLIC OPINION is a great JUDGE, continually considering the actions of the individual in a community.

What will your position be before JUDGE PUBLIC OPINION if you have refused to lend your endorsement and support to the American Red Cross?

There is another great JUDGE who will consider your case, a greater JUDGE even than Public Opinion, and one to whom we owe much.

What will that wonderful army of men now returning from "overseas" think of YOU if YOU have not done YOUR duty toward them? Many of them will not return. What has YOUR record been?

One dollar enrolls YOU as a member of the Red Cross. YOU cannot afford to live in Upland and shift your responsibility to humanity.

PREPARING FOR CHRISTMAS

By Rev. Chas. A. Kent

"Prepare ye the way of the Lord."
—Mark 1:3.

The Christmas rush is on. All feel that they must get ready for Christmas. The flu regulations do not prevent crowded stores.

Christmas is the celebration of the birth of Christ, the hope of the world. What should be our preparation? Shall it be merely gift exchange, or selling of holiday goods, or an extra good time. Let Christ into the life.

"Let earth receive her king;
Let every heart prepare him room,
And heaven and nature sing."

Christmas requires preparation. What it is depends on what precedes. In mathematics what comes after the equality sign depends on what goes before. Christmas is a result. It is the answer to the problems of the world's sin and need.

The first Christmas had a wonderful preparation. This was two fold. First there was a world preparation and readiness. Roman rule made possible world peace. This gave opportunity for thought and the discussion of life's hopes and destinies. Five main roads of solid masonry leading out from Rome knit the peoples together. The Greek language was wide-spread, and because of its beauty, flexibility, and expressiveness was wonderfully adapted to become the medium of expression of the new Christian belief.

The world, then as now, needed a Redeemer. Seneca describes the moral condition of the times in these words:

"Crime and iniquity abound in all things, more wickedness is committed than the law can reach. The passion for sin increases daily: respect for the pure and holy diminishes constantly. Sin stalks openly, it stares into all eyes. Innocence is not only infrequent, it is unknown."

Rome was not satisfied with Jupiter or Greece with Zeus. Heathen religions were powerless to make men different.

Nations were looking for a great deliverer. Socrates "hoped that the deity would vouchsafe us an explicit revelation which would acquaint us with our duty in the present and our destiny in the future."

Plato said, "We wait patiently for the Infinite One." Virgil and Tacitus looked for some "beginning of a new order of the age." Haggai said Christ was "the desire of all nations." Not only was there a world preparation but there was also a long preparation of the Jewish people. This went on for more than 2000 years. Jewish expectations like the children's stockings were hung up, waiting for the morning of the new happy day. When it came they were still not ready. They were too much taken up with politics, and society, and creed, and conventionalities. Bethlehem was crowded with people making ready for the Passover but there was no room for Jesus. He first opened his eyes in the barn. Is our life so busy and crowded that there is no room for Jesus?

The preparation of 1918 for the coming of the Christ, the Prince of Peace, far surpasses that of all other ages. There remains much yet to do before we can say with the writer, John, "Come Lord Jesus." But look at present day preparation.

First is the new brotherhood of nations. The lines of Alfred Austin, written during the Spanish-American War, have a new meaning: "Now fling them out to the breeze,

Shamrock, thistle and rose,
And the Star Spangled Banner unfurl with these,

A message to friends and foes
Wherever the sails of peace are seen, and wherever the war wind blows.

We severed have been too long;
But now we have done with a worn out tale,
The tale of an ancient wrong,
And our friendship shall last long as love doth last and be stronger than death is strong."

This brotherhood of nations is to enforce the laws of brotherhood by a league of nations until the world shall be one family, without a quarrel.

Again, let us believe that the coming peace conference at Versailles is the realization of The Hague conferences of 1899 and 1907. From now on let America have her drives and spend her millions to present the Christ of Bethlehem, his teachings and claims, to each individual of all peoples.

Thank God England is asking her envoys to the peace conference to demand absolute abolition of conscription throughout Europe. May victorious America not make the mistake of adopting universal military training.

Again there is a wonderful preparation for Christmas and the Christ in the attitude of the heathen nations to the Christian religion. Islam, directed from Berlin, declared a world war. The kaiser put his god Thor and the Mohammedan Allah against Christ; 800,000 Christians were killed by the sword. Thousands of others were sent into exile to starve and perish. But Christ is today victor over all. The war has given a stunning blow to Mohammedans. The crescent of Mecca is forever dimmed by the light of the Star of Bethlehem. In India, Persia, and Africa, where two of every three are Mohammedans, Christianity has such a chance to gain converts as never before existed. The heathen world is prepared and ready.

Again the preparation is seen in the great victory of Temperance. The breweries as well as the saloons must go, they are in the way of the Christ. Temperance forces are organizing to make the world dry. The plan is to spend $5,000,000 a year to defeat the avowed purpose of the liquor association to transfer their blighting business to the Orient. Will Christian America consent? Never. After sweeping these United States free from the sour smell of fermenting hops we will help clean up the world. Only thus can America be safe.

But, my reader, are YOU making ready to receive the Christ into your life this Christmas? Oh, make room for him in your affection, your thought, your plans, your time. To prepare for Christmas is to "prepare the way of the Lord."

Text: "In hell he lifted up his eyes."—Luke 16:23.

Subject: The Place of Future Punishment.
Hell. The place for the wicked after death, the abode of evil spirits.—Webster.

For me to stop here to give you a fine learned display of what I do not know or that which I do know as to what the Hebrew, Greek and Latin meanings are is too far-fetched and would be straining the point to make the text mean what most men really hope that it means, namely, no hell at all. Shame on such conduct. I purpose to speak so that the most stupid individual who may chance to read my lines may not fail to understand that the text really means that there is a place of the utmost woe, ruin, and desolation, to which all impenitent persons will at last be reduced. What a terrible thought is this. Nothing is more intolerably painful, than suffering the violence of fire enraged with brimstone; and hell is described by a lake of fire and brimstone. Rev. 19:20; 21:8. It is represented as a dimly dark place, where there is nothing but grief, sadness, vexation, rage, despair, and gnashing of teeth. The wicked in hell not only undergo the punishment of sense, but also that of loss, which is a separation from God, a privation of his sight and his help. Jesus says that hell is a place where their worm dieth not, and their fire is not quenched. Mark 9:48. Add to this the ternity of their misery, which above all other considerations makes it intolerable: "And in hell he lifted up his eyes, being in torments."

How glad I am that God has made it possible for every one to escape that awful place.

All hail the power of Jesus' name,
Lel Angels prostrate fall;
Bring forth the royal diadem
And crown him Lord of all.

Then let a lost and ruined world hear the "The Royal Proclamation." The glad tidings of salvation, to every creature, to the ruined sons of nature. Jesus reigns, he reigns victorious, over heaven and earth most glorious—Jesus reigns.

I warn you in Jesus' name that the scriptures are the real word of God; that from the moment you die, you will be remarkably happy, or unspeakably miserable; that you cannot be happy hereafter unless you are holy here; which cannot be, unless you are born again. Repent and believe the Gospel, receive this call from God. Eternity is at hand. "In hell he lifted up his eyes." This you need not do. God does not require it of you; you cannot unless by your own wilful choice. And if you do you will be an intruder into those regions of woe, which God did not prepare for you, but for the devil and his angels. God forbid that you or I should ever lift up our eyes in that awful place.
